

The New Mexico Cultural Properties Review Committee
presents the

2021 Heritage Preservation Awards

- Lifetime Achievement Award

Christopher Wilson, University of New Mexico This award recognizes Chris Wilson for a life dedicated to historic preservation. Starting in 1982, Chris worked for Las Vegas' Citizen's Committee for Historic Preservation, HPD, and the City of Albuquerque resulting in several publications. In the mid-1990s Chris developed the six-course Graduate Certificate in Historic Preservation and Regionalism at the UNM School of Architecture and Planning.

- Lifetime Achievement Award

Edgar Boles This award recognizes Edgar "Ed" Boles for a life dedicated to historic preservation. After arriving in Albuquerque from Kansas in 1981, Ed taught at UNM, attained his architectural registration and helped launch the New Mexico MainStreet program. In 1991 he joined the Historic Preservation Division and provided local and tribal assistance and compliance review among other duties. Hired as a preservation planner for the City of Albuquerque he coordinated the work of the City's preservation program. Ed retired from the City of Albuquerque in 2013.

- Architectural Heritage Award

Santa Fe County Administration Building, Restoration This award recognizes the restoration of the Santa Fe County Courthouse building designed by John Gaw Meem and built in 1939. Rehabilitation included removal of a c.1970s addition and restoration of the historic courtyard as well as interior updates to ensure ADA accessibility and restoration of fixtures including tin chandeliers and courthouse pews. This award is presented to representatives from Santa Fe County, the Jaynes Corporation, and Studio Southwest Architects.

- Archaeological Heritage Award

Natural Resources Conservation Service, State Office This award recognizes the completion of an agreement to streamline and professionalize how compliance review is completed for the hundreds of projects NRCS completes each year. This award goes to Xavier Montoya, Steve Kadas and William Volf of the New Mexico Office.

- Heritage Community Award

Community of Duran, Gary Sanchez, Joseph Hindi, & Katie Dix. This award recognizes the support of the Community of Duran including Joseph Hindi, Gary Sanchez, and consultant Katie Dix for their work in getting the Duran Historic District listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

- Heritage Publication Award

Enrique R. Lamadrid & Moises Gonzales, University of New Mexico Press This award recognizes Nación Genízara: Ethnogenesis, Place, and Identity in New Mexico which examines the history, cultural evolution, and survival of the Genízaro people. Edited by Moises Gonzales and Enrique R. Lamadrid, published by the University of New Mexico Press.

- Heritage Publication Award

Dr. Jamie Lara Bronstein, Department of History, New Mexico State University & Dr. Durwood Ball, New Mexico Historical Review. This award recognizes Dr. Bronstein's 2018 article, "Ladies, have you heard? The Strange Career of New Mexico's Equal Rights Amendments" which appeared in the New Mexico Historical Review.